

INSTEP-WFU Cambridge

Massimo (Max) Beber

Fellow in Economics, University of Cambridge
Senior Tutor, Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge

Education:

Bachelor of Arts, Political Science, Catholic University of Milan
Master of Philosophy, Economics, University of Cambridge

Research Interests:

International Economics
International Finance
International Affairs

Selected Publications:

‘World Finance Between Evolution and Revolution: Lessons for a New Financial Architecture from the International Economics Debate at Chatham House’, London, Royal Institute of International Affairs

‘One Careful Driver from New’: Earning the European Central Bank's No Claims Bonus’, Journal of Common Market Studies (Special Issue: Annual Review of the Activities of the EU)

‘International Finance and Chatham House: Rules of Engagement’, The World Today (March 2003, with Brigitte Granville)

Other Selected Academic Appointments:

Visiting Professor of International Economics at ASERI, Catholic University of Milan
Senior Economic Consultant to Lombardy’s Regional Research Institute

Languages:

English
Italian